Corlyn Marsh is currently serving as the California State FFA President for the California FFA Association. Corlyn is originally from Arbuckle, California where she attended Pierce High School. She participated in a variety of activities as a member of the Arbuckle-Pierce FFA chapter, including Parliamentary Procedure team, Prepared Public Speaking, and she was a member of the 2018 State Champion Agriculture Sales Team. Corlyn graduated high school in 2018 and worked as an intern for the Agriculture Council of California, before being elected in April at the 91st California State FFA Convention as the California State FFA President.

Corlyn along with her five teammates will spend a year traveling California and advocating for California FFA and Agriculture. A few highlights of their year of service in California includes: visiting and teaching at over 30 high school agriculture programs in California, facilitating leadership workshops at eight different conferences serving approximately 200 students each, and conducting and presenting awards presentations along with a 10 minute keynote address at the California State FFA Leadership Conference in front of an audience of over 7,000 members, advisors, and parents.

Corrine Hoisington is a full-time professor of Information Systems Technology at Central Virginia Community College in Lynchburg, Virginia, with more than 25 years of teaching experience. Corrine travels over 200,000 miles a year delivering keynote addresses to college and university professors, and K-12 educators worldwide. Corrine is a thought leader and curriculum specialist for Virtual Reality. She believes that VR & AR are game changers in education today. The pedagogies of constructivism and immersive learning show that students learn best by doing or by being. So, they shouldn’t just read about history — they should ‘be’ historians. They shouldn’t just study archaeology — they should ‘be’ archaeologists. Let’s raise the next round of inventors through the discovery of a 3D world. Corrine believes that technology infused pedagogy has the power to transform teaching and learning. It’s never been a more exciting time for teachers to explore and for schools to stay connected with accessible and current technology to nurture student engagement and success.

Corrine’s Keynote is sponsored by National Geographic Learning.

Mauricio Reyes is currently a cadet captain at Reseda Charter High School’s Police Academy, where he leads the cadet rank and file. Mauricio is a product of Mulholland Middle School’s Junior Police Academy. He came to Reseda’s Police Academy as a freshman in hopes of preparing for college followed by a career in law enforcement. Mauricio first saw LAPD Officers when he was nine years old. They spoke to his elementary school class about their devotion to protecting those around them from evil. He was so impacted by their presentation that he decided then and there that he wanted to follow in their footsteps. After middle school, Mauricio entered Reseda Charter High School’s Police Academy with a strong desire to get involved while laying the groundwork for his future profession. He became a class leader in his freshman year and worked his way up to the highest-ranking cadet position, where he serves as the cadet captain over 225 Reseda Police Academy cadets. Mauricio runs cadet leadership meetings, summer leadership training camps and mentors fellow freshman cadets. Along with his leadership involvement, Mauricio was also a part of his high school football team, baseball team, Reseda Police Academy Drill Team and Reseda Police Academy Toughest Team Alive. He helped Reseda Charter High School’s Police Academy win their 6th, 7th and 8th consecutive Toughest Team titles.

On top of his leadership skills, tremendous athletic ability and school/program involvement, Mauricio maintains a 4.0 Grade Point Average and has donated over 200 hours of community service to his school and neighborhood communities. He credits Reseda’s Police Academy for his speaking and leadership abilities.

Mauricio was born in Woodland Hills, California and currently lives with his family in the San Fernando Valley. He is the second oldest of four children in a family of seven. Mauricio’s goals are to apply to the Police Preparation Program, known as POPP, obtain his Bachelor’s Degree in Criminal Justice and then apply for the Los Angeles Police Department.

Natalie Randolph is a seasoned educator, serving in the District of Columbia for 16 years. First, as an environmental education coordinator with the Department of Public Works, then for 11 years as a high school and middle school science teacher. In 2016 she transitioned out of the classroom to serve as the Title IX Coordinator for the DC State Athletic Association (DCSAA) and currently serves as the Director of Equity, Justice, and Community for the Sidwell Friends School. During her teaching career, she also had the amazing privilege to serve as one of the few female head football coaches in the country for Coolidge High School. During her four-year tenure as coach, she worked hard to facilitate the personal and academic growth of student athletes. She was able to ensure that all student athletes that completed her program graduated and were accepted into a college, university or post-secondary program.

Natalie continues to serve student athletes by recently starting her own organization, The Student Athlete Project, which seeks to provide academic, social and career support for underserved high school student athletes. Natalie is a native Washingtonian and graduate of the Sidwell Friends School and the University of Virginia. She loves outdoor festivals and events, is a science nerd and has trouble finding things that she is not interested in learning about.

Joshua Zhang is currently a senior at Los Osos High School in Rancho Cucamonga. He has been a member of Future Business Leaders of America for the past 4 years and currently serves as the Inland Section President and State Vice-President.

He has demonstrated his passion for FBLA by participating in regional, state, and national competitions, placing first in Business Plan at the State Leadership Conference and 2nd at the National Leadership Conference. He has attained the Business Level of the Business Achievement Awards and completed numerous state and national projects.

Joshua completed an internship at the Berkeley Business Academy for Youth as a youth mentor where he taught younger students to organize and write a professional business plan. His future plans include majoring in business and leading a non-profit organization.
